ADMINISTRATIVE MEMORANDUM NO. 300-2

ADMINISTRATION

TECHNICAL ORDER MANUALS

1. The Maintenance Section of Materiel Staff, DPD, has collected and keeps current a technical library which consists, among other things, of the Air Force Technical Order Manuals and changes thereto. The maintenance of this service is strictly a voluntary one on the part of the personnel so engaged and, in order to be effective, cooperation on the part of the users is necessary. A growing tendency has been noted for personnel to remove entire orders or single pages from the manuals and not return them. Obviously, such a practice is detrimental to the orderliness of the system. Air Maintenance Section is most anxious to provide the assistance needed but requests that certain practices be followed.

2. In the event that a Tech Order, a change, or a portion of either is required, the requestor should so signify to the Air Maintenance Section. If the portion is desired for permanent retention, an additional copy will be provided. If it is desired only for reference, the requestor may borrow the section desired but should let the manual keepers know. If only a page or portion thereof is needed, a thermofax will be provided.

3. The technical library serves a worthwhile function and the cooperation of all users is urged.

Administrative Memorandum No. 300-21

ADMINISTRATION
20 June 1962

25X1A

1. Effective 21 June 1962, all correspondence which does not deal substantially with a specific project and is not subject to [REDACTED] control procedures will bear an OSA control number. This change is the result of, and in accordance with, the recent re-organization cited in OSA Notice 1-15. The new numbering series will commence with OSA-0001-62 and replaces the DPD series formerly used. Issuance of the new control numbering series will continue to be handled by the RI Branch.

2. For your information, all correspondence prepared for the signature of the Assistant Director for Special Activities shall be written as appears below.

FITNESS REPORTS

1. The following memorandum from the Deputy Director, Central Intelligence to all Deputy Directors is quoted in full for your guidance:

"1. You are aware of my concern about our Fitness Reporting system and my determination that we must improve our performance in preparing timely and meaningful reports. I shall expect you to give your personal attention to doing so in your components.

"2. I have instructed the Director of Personnel to develop and to put into effect such mechanical controls and quality reviews as are necessary to identify delinquencies or deficiencies in the operation of our Fitness Reporting system. He will institute immediately procedures for notifying you of any overdue reports in your components which are 60 days or more delinquent and will notify me of those which are delinquent 90 days or more. As you know, I intend to issue a formal reprimand to the official responsible for any report in the 90-day delinquency group unless acceptable reasons have been given for delaying the report.

"3. Immediate and substantial improvement in the preparation of reports when they are due and in full compliance with the technical instructions which accompany the form is but a first step. I regard its accomplishment to be largely a matter of good supervisory discipline. Our second step will be to improve the quality and integrity of these reports and to bring about a high degree of consistency in the application of the rating standards provided in the Fitness Report form. This will not be an easy task and its accomplishment will require that you exercise command leadership in establishing and applying appropriate monitoring techniques in your components. While I expect the Director of Personnel to provide staff leadership in this area, I shall look to you to take the initiative in developing this program in your component and shall expect an early report of your progress in doing so."

2. Priority attention shall be directed to the preparation of Fitness Reports when they are due. I cannot over-emphasize the importance of prompt action on the part of supervisors to make certain that timely and meaningful reports are prepared in compliance with the provisions of our personnel evaluation program.

OFFICE OF SPECIAL ACTIVITIES
OSA HQS NOTICE NO. 300-33

ADMINISTRATION
26 FEBRUARY 1963

1. The OSA Signal Center has brought to the attention of this Office the fact that outgoing cables delivered to them for transmission are containing more and more extensive "handwritten" corrections.

2. The practice of correcting typed messages by pen or pencil should be held to an absolute minimum in order to assist in expeditious transmission and insure accuracy of message content as it is actually transmitted.

3. In those few instances where corrections are minor or when circumstances do not permit the retyping of a message, the individual making the correction should make certain that the correction appears on each copy of the message form.

4. Supervisors and originating and releasing authorities are asked to assist in reducing the number of these corrections.
